

Maboko, we see your halo

Good things have been brewing in Maboko Land as they continue to cook up and nurture not only their own, but also deserving and needy locals; leaving behind a beautiful string of pearls of wisdom, knowledge and love.

Maboko Colliery recognizes the importance of empowering the youth, especially those of the Emakhazeni Local Municipality. As a skills programme and training for the community, Maboko trained twenty young locals through a Skills Program Project. This mine didn't stop there, some of the trainees were absorbed into substantive positions within the company. One such blessed individual is Relebogile Tsoletsane. She was funded by Maboko Colliery through its bursary program. She now has her BSC Engineering and Environmental Geology Degree through the University of Pretoria, cheerfully uttered Tsoletsane. She continued to thank Maboko for choosing to invest in her future, sharing that she was not sure how she would have done it without the company's support.

“...I was not sure I would be able to continue with my studies having both my parents unemployed, but I was fortunate enough to receive funding from Maboko..”

As far as socio-economic development is concerned, Maboko goes a step further having donated school uniform to child-headed households in ward 4 (-the Dullstroom Community). The donation was made through the NPO, FAMSA. The children and the NPO expressed a heart-warmingly sincere gratitude for this thoughtful gesture.

As a budding company, Mbuyelo will always continue to look at its own to nurture and improve. Mr Norman Chavalala and Ms Sonto Ngwenya are Weighbridge Clerks at Maboko Colliery; they obtained their Basic Coal Preparation Certificates from the well-known Colliery Training College (CTC). Line supervisors were also trained in Microsoft Programs to upgrade their computer skills. And because Mbuyelo team members are not only young and eager, but determined and results-orientated, a string of achievements followed:
